

The Jamesville Daily Gazette.

VOLUME 28

Entered at the Post Office at Jamesville, Wis., as second-class matter.

JANESVILLE, WISCONSIN. THURSDAY, DECEMBER 18, 1884

Published Every Evening Except Sunday, at $5 a Year

NUMBER 245

There is only one democrat in the Dakota legislature. That is one reason why it can't be admitted into the Union.

Another calamity is to befall the people of the west. Judas P. St. John is going to take the lecture field.

It would be a slap-in-the-face for polygamy if Miss Kate Field should be appointed governor of Utah. We say give the slap.

There are movements all along the line against the Spanish-American treaty. It doesn't seem to have friends enough to make an organization.

It is now a serious question what shall be done with Nevada. It has only 13,000 votes, and the population is dwindling to nothing. It is a dead state, and the carcass should be buried.

Carl Schurz is telling that his speeches defeated Blaine; but the Inter Ocean is right when it says that he should study the returns from Ohio, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin, which were considered doubtful states before his visits, but were all found in the republican line on election day with increased majorities.

Sergeant Bates, who got considerable notoriety by carrying on foot the Union flag through all the confederate states soon after the war, is reduced in circumstances to absolute poverty, and his earlier and outlandish, which have damaged at his side through all his adventures, have been sold at a coastable sale to satisfy a debt.

Statistics of a very late date, show that in the railway service in Great Britain there are 10,000 locomotives, and in the naval service 12,000 men who do not drink a drop of spirits or of multi-liquors. It is to the credit of the railway service of the United States that it is doing what the same service is doing in England—employing none but temperate men.

Senator Pendleton, in a letter to the New Haven civil service society, says that President Cleveland will enforce and extend, as far as he can, the present laws on the question of reform. "As far as he can," is a timely qualification. President Cleveland can no more enforce the civil service of Curtis, Schurz & Co. than Henderson can vote the republican ticket. Put this down as a prediction.

Mr. Evans does not seem to have the senatorial bee in his bonnet. He understands that going to the senate would give him no additional honor, beside that his law practice is too large to be neglected. His annual income from the profession being about $100,000. He said the other day: "I am not inattentive to the mention that has been made of my name for the office, and circumstances will doubtless compel me within a few days to formally announce that I am a candidate."

The Hon. Robert C. Winthrop, the venerable and distinguished orator, of Boston, is in a low condition, having been taken down with pneumonia about a week ago. Mr. Winthrop is in his 76th year. He was the last whig speaker of the national house of representatives in 1847-49. In 1850 he succeeded Daniel Webster, by appointment in the United States senate, when Mr. Webster had been called to Fillmore's cabinet. His latest work has been preparing the oration to be pronounced at the dedication of the Washington monument, of which as speaker of the house, he laid the corner stone.

The January number of the North American Review is an excellent one. We are now so safely over the crisis of the presidential election that men of all parties can consider calmly Bishop Huntington's essay on "Vicegerency in Politics," and it is to be hoped that what they learn from it will not be forgotten four years hence. Under the title, "The Re-United South," Henry Waterson presents with great clearness the southern and democratic view of the political situation as it now stands. Another question of universal concern, which some think will soon make itself a national issue, is that of labor and its compensation; and Colonel Hinton, in "American Labor Organizations," shows with what equipment it will take the field. But the article that the literary reader will first turn to is Frederick Harrison's brilliant and incisive discussion of "Froude's Life of Carlyle," while the religious or philosophical reader will find in Courtney's "Socrates, Buddha, and Christ," specific statements and quotations of those parallel doctrines that are so often vaguely alluded to. For the scientific reader, Mr. Proctor discusses learnedly "Herschel's Star Surveys," and Prof. Le Conte presents and explains some curious facts in relation to "The Evolution of the Senses."

THE DAKOTA QUESTION.

The senate bill which admits Dakota into the Union as a state, has passed the senate, the vote being strictly partisan. Every republican senator had the fairness to vote for it, and every democrat had partisan cheek enough to vote against it. As the democrats are opposed to the admission of Dakota because it is a republican territory, the senate bill will not likely be concurred in by the house of representatives.

The bill which passed the senate provides that the present territory is to be divided on the forty-sixth parallel, north latitude; the northern part to remain a territory under the name of Lincoln, and the part south of the line to be declared a new state by presidential proclamation, after an acceptable constitution shall have been adopted by the people of Dakota and submitted to the president. This will make the state about 400 miles long from east to west, and about 215 miles wide. The area will then be about 80,000 square miles, and the population some 280,000. Southern Dakota has been knocking at the door for admission into the Union for some time. It has been unfortunate in its attempts to become a state. One of the causes of this is that the people of the territory have never been able to agree on the question of admission. The people of northern and southern Dakota have quarreled on the proposition to divide the territory. The Fargo convention of September, 1883, protested against the Sioux Falls convention of the same month, when the latter proposed to divide the territory in the manner stated in the senate bill. There are two things that will defeat the present bill—(1) the democratic house, because the territory is republican; and (2) the want of harmony among the people, or rather the politicians, of the territory.

There are some strong arguments why the territory should not be divided. It is not too large already. It is much smaller than California—that state having 168,000 square miles, while Dakota has but 147,000. Texas is nearly as large as two Dakotas, having an area of a little over 237,000 square miles. Then, again, congress should guard against cutting up the territory into too many states as the house of representatives is already so unwieldy and a very intractable body. But in the case of Dakota, with its large and increasing population, nothing but gross injustice and stubborn partisanship will keep it out of the Union.

ABOUT INTERNAL REVENUE BURDENS.

Congress is frequently asked to take off some of the burdens that the internal revenue tax imposes; and it has been frequently asked to lessen the tax on tobacco and on whisky. But congress has not responded to this demand, chiefly for two reasons—first because the government must have the revenue from liquors and tobacco, or put the burden of taxation on something else; and second because liquor and tobacco are not necessities of life and can afford to be pretty heavily taxed.

The receipts from internal revenue taxes for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1884, were $121,500,000, of which some $77,000,000 was from liquor and liquor-dealers. It would not do to remove the internal tax on liquor, as every body can see. It is one of those taxes that doesn't burden the people except those who can afford to drink, and the man who drinks can afford to pay the tax. It is a singular fact that as a nation we are steadily consuming an increasing quantity of liquor and tobacco, regardless of business depression and times that pinch the pockets of the people. During the last fiscal year, the consumption of whisky was 75,842,474 gallons, or about 1.27 gallons per capita. The ratio was nearly the same in 1883; was only 1.04 gallons during the last time of 1878; but was 1.51 gallons per capita in 1873, when business reverses were witnessed on every hand. The consumption of fermented liquors last year was 19,908,019 barrels, or at 31 gallons to the barrel, 618,957,180 gallons—about 10 1/2 gallons for every inhabitant. In 1881 the ratio was 8.22 gallons per capita; in 1878 only 6.36 gallons, and in 1873 0.84 gallons per capita.

Now take the consumption of tobacco, and it will be observed that there is a steady increase in the consumption of that article. The manufactured tobacco consumed last year amounted to 824,338,667 pounds, or 3.2 pounds for each inhabitant. In 1881 the ratio was 3.1 pounds per capita; in 1878, only 2.5 pounds; and in 1873, 2.8 pounds. The extreme variation here is only about one-sixth, and a tendency to increase appears, in spite of any depression of industry thus far. This tendency is more marked in the consumption of cigars and cigarettes. Last year 3,455,019,017 cigars were consumed, or about 60 for each inhabitant, against 50 in 1881 and 40 in 1878. Last year 908,000,723 cigarettes were consumed, or about 15 for each person, against 11 in 1881 and only about 3 per capita in 1878.

It will make a person of common sense smile quite audibly after reading these figures, to hear of the proposition to take the tax off liquors and tobacco, and let the duty on sugar remain as it is now! Liquor and tobacco, whisky and cigars, are luxuries, and therefore let them be taxed; but sugar is one of the important necessities of life, and all classes of people, especially the working classes, would be immensely benefited by having the duty on sugar reduced or removed altogether.

"My wife suffered with chronic rheumatism for two years. At last she found the best remedy she ever used." G. H. Twombly, Exeter, N. H.

Holiday goods at Prentice & Evenson's. Some beautiful push odor cases at a very low price, at Stearns & Baker's.

Holiday goods at Prentice & Evenson's. M. C. Smith has just received 200 dozen of ladies' and children's underwear direct from a well known manufacturer, which will be sold at 25 per cent below the usual prices.

Holiday goods at Prentice & Evenson's. The Great New York fire store opens its doors this week with a wholesale stock of clothing saved from a fire. It will be sold at most any price. South Main opposite C. B. Conrad's grocery.

Holiday goods at Prentice & Evenson's. You will find all medicines prescribed in this paper at Prentice & Evenson's, opposite postoffice, Jamesville. Medicines not in liquid form sent by mail. Prescription and receipts prepared from pure and fresh drugs cheaper than at any other reliable drugstore in the county.

Holiday goods at Prentice & Evenson's. The Great New York fire store opens its doors this week with a wholesale stock of clothing saved from a fire. It will be sold at most any price. South Main opposite C. B. Conrad's grocery.

HIS ROMAN DIPLOMA.

MARQUIS DE LEUVILLE SPOILING FOR A FIGHT

Because He Heard That Gen. Sickles Had Discredited His Nobility—Sickles' Account of a Scene in the Academy Foyer.

New York, Dec. 18.—It was rumored about the club Wednesday that a personal encounter occurred between Gen. Sickles and the Marquis de Leville in the foyer of the Academy of Music on Monday evening. It was said that Col. Marple, who had prevailed a serious strife between the gentlemen. The only particulars of the affair that could be obtained is the following statement furnished by Gen. Sickles. The general says: "The Marquis de Leville, whom I have always regarded as a pleasant fellow, came up to me in the Academy of Music lobby, while I was chatting with the new tenant. He seemed only disposed to engage in some pleasantries. 'General,' said he, 'I have just heard you highly complimented by a lady.' 'Indeed?' said I. 'That is unusual at my time of life. Pray, who might have done me that honor?' And I asked him if it was a lady who accompanied him. He said it was, and then he asked: 'I saw you in the lobby when you were surrounded by a lady and a diplomat. I am a humbug.' 'How can you say such a thing?' I asked. 'I never saw your diploma and know nothing about it.' 'But another lady says you imagined the authenticity of my Roman diploma.' 'I answered, 'I could not tell the gossamer from the spurious. I am no authority on such things.' 'The Marquis de Leville, whom I have always regarded as a pleasant fellow, came up to me in the Academy of Music lobby, while I was chatting with the new tenant. He seemed only disposed to engage in some pleasantries. 'General,' said he, 'I have just heard you highly complimented by a lady.' 'Indeed?' said I. 'That is unusual at my time of life. Pray, who might have done me that honor?' And I asked him if it was a lady who accompanied him. He said it was, and then he asked: 'I saw you in the lobby when you were surrounded by a lady and a diplomat. I am a humbug.' 'How can you say such a thing?' I asked. 'I never saw your diploma and know nothing about it.' 'But another lady says you imagined the authenticity of my Roman diploma.' 'I answered, 'I could not tell the gossamer from the spurious. I am no authority on such things.' 'The Marquis de Leville, whom I have always regarded as a pleasant fellow, came up to me in the Academy of Music lobby, while I was chatting with the new tenant. He seemed only disposed to engage in some pleasantries. 'General,' said he, 'I have just heard you highly complimented by a lady.' 'Indeed?' said I. 'That is unusual at my time of life. Pray, who might have done me that honor?' And I asked him if it was a lady who accompanied him. He said it was, and then he asked: 'I saw you in the lobby when you were surrounded by a lady and a diplomat. I am a humbug.' 'How can you say such a thing?' I asked. 'I never saw your diploma and know nothing about it.' 'But another lady says you imagined the authenticity of my Roman diploma.' 'I answered, 'I could not tell the gossamer from the spurious. I am no authority on such things.' 'The Marquis de Leville, whom I have always regarded as a pleasant fellow, came up to me in the Academy of Music lobby, while I was chatting with the new tenant. He seemed only disposed to engage in some pleasantries. 'General,' said he, 'I have just heard you highly complimented by a lady.' 'Indeed?' said I. 'That is unusual at my time of life. Pray, who might have done me that honor?' And I asked him if it was a lady who accompanied him. He said it was, and then he asked: 'I saw you in the lobby when you were surrounded by a lady and a diplomat. I am a humbug.' 'How can you say such a thing?' I asked. 'I never saw your diploma and know nothing about it.' 'But another lady says you imagined the authenticity of my Roman diploma.' 'I answered, 'I could not tell the gossamer from the spurious. I am no authority on such things.' 'The Marquis de Leville, whom I have always regarded as a pleasant fellow, came up to me in the Academy of Music lobby, while I was chatting with the new tenant. He seemed only disposed to engage in some pleasantries. 'General,' said he, 'I have just heard you highly complimented by a lady.' 'Indeed?' said I. 'That is unusual at my time of life. Pray, who might have done me that honor?' And I asked him if it was a lady who accompanied him. He said it was, and then he asked: 'I saw you in the lobby when you were surrounded by a lady and a diplomat. I am a humbug.' 'How can you say such a thing?' I asked. 'I never saw your diploma and know nothing about it.' 'But another lady says you imagined the authenticity of my Roman diploma.' 'I answered, 'I could not tell the gossamer from the spurious. I am no authority on such things.' 'The Marquis de Leville, whom I have always regarded as a pleasant fellow, came up to me in the Academy of Music lobby, while I was chatting with the new tenant. He seemed only disposed to engage in some pleasantries. 'General,' said he, 'I have just heard you highly complimented by a lady.' 'Indeed?' said I. 'That is unusual at my time of life. Pray, who might have done me that honor?' And I asked him if it was a lady who accompanied him. He said it was, and then he asked: 'I saw you in the lobby when you were surrounded by a lady and a diplomat. I am a humbug.' 'How can you say such a thing?' I asked. 'I never saw your diploma and know nothing about it.' 'But another lady says you imagined the authenticity of my Roman diploma.' 'I answered, 'I could not tell the gossamer from the spurious. I am no authority on such things.' 'The Marquis de Leville, whom I have always regarded as a pleasant fellow, came up to me in the Academy of Music lobby, while I was chatting with the new tenant. He seemed only disposed to engage in some pleasantries. 'General,' said he, 'I have just heard you highly complimented by a lady.' 'Indeed?' said I. 'That is unusual at my time of life. Pray, who might have done me that honor?' And I asked him if it was a lady who accompanied him. He said it was, and then he asked: 'I saw you in the lobby when you were surrounded by a lady and a diplomat. I am a humbug.' 'How can you say such a thing?' I asked. 'I never saw your diploma and know nothing about it.' 'But another lady says you imagined the authenticity of my Roman diploma.' 'I answered, 'I could not tell the gossamer from the spurious. I am no authority on such things.' 'The Marquis de Leville, whom I have always regarded as a pleasant fellow, came up to me in the Academy of Music lobby, while I was chatting with the new tenant. He seemed only disposed to engage in some pleasantries. 'General,' said he, 'I have just heard you highly complimented by a lady.' 'Indeed?' said I. 'That is unusual at my time of life. Pray, who might have done me that honor?' And I asked him if it was a lady who accompanied him. He said it was, and then he asked: 'I saw you in the lobby when you were surrounded by a lady and a diplomat. I am a humbug.' 'How can you say such a thing?' I asked. 'I never saw your diploma and know nothing about it.' 'But another lady says you imagined the authenticity of my Roman diploma.' 'I answered, 'I could not tell the gossamer from the spurious. I am no authority on such things.' 'The Marquis de Leville, whom I have always regarded as a pleasant fellow, came up to me in the Academy of Music lobby, while I was chatting with the new tenant. He seemed only disposed to engage in some pleasantries. 'General,' said he, 'I have just heard you highly complimented by a lady.' 'Indeed?' said I. 'That is unusual at my time of life. Pray, who might have done me that honor?' And I asked him if it was a lady who accompanied him. He said it was, and then he asked: 'I saw you in the lobby when you were surrounded by a lady and a diplomat. I am a humbug.' 'How can you say such a thing?' I asked. 'I never saw your diploma and know nothing about it.' 'But another lady says you imagined the authenticity of my Roman diploma.' 'I answered, 'I could not tell the gossamer from the spurious. I am no authority on such things.' 'The Marquis de Leville, whom I have always regarded as a pleasant fellow, came up to me in the Academy of Music lobby, while I was chatting with the new tenant. He seemed only disposed to engage in some pleasantries. 'General,' said he, 'I have just heard you highly complimented by a lady.' 'Indeed?' said I. 'That is unusual at my time of life. Pray, who might have done me that honor?' And I asked him if it was a lady who accompanied him. He said it was, and then he asked: 'I saw you in the lobby when you were surrounded by a lady and a diplomat. I am a humbug.' 'How can you say such a thing?' I asked. 'I never saw your diploma and know nothing about it.' 'But another lady says you imagined the authenticity of my Roman diploma.' 'I answered, 'I could not tell the gossamer from the spurious. I am no authority on such things.' 'The Marquis de Leville, whom I have always regarded as a pleasant fellow, came up to me in the Academy of Music lobby, while I was chatting with the new tenant. He seemed only disposed to engage in some pleasantries. 'General,' said he, 'I have just heard you highly complimented by a lady.' 'Indeed?' said I. 'That is unusual at my time of life. Pray, who might have done me that honor?' And I asked him if it was a lady who accompanied him. He said it was, and then he asked: 'I saw you in the lobby when you were surrounded by a lady and a diplomat. I am a humbug.' 'How can you say such a thing?' I asked. 'I never saw your diploma and know nothing about it.' 'But another lady says you imagined the authenticity of my Roman diploma.' 'I answered, 'I could not tell the gossamer from the spurious. I am no authority on such things.' 'The Marquis de Leville, whom I have always regarded as a pleasant fellow, came up to me in the Academy of Music lobby, while I was chatting with the new tenant. He seemed only disposed to engage in some pleasantries. 'General,' said he, 'I have just heard you highly complimented by a lady.' 'Indeed?' said I. 'That is unusual at my time of life. Pray, who might have done me that honor?' And I asked him if it was a lady who accompanied him. He said it was, and then he asked: 'I saw you in the lobby when you were surrounded by a lady and a diplomat. I am a humbug.' 'How can you say such a thing?' I asked. 'I never saw your diploma and know nothing about it.' 'But another lady says you imagined the authenticity of my Roman diploma.' 'I answered, 'I could not tell the gossamer from the spurious. I am no authority on such things.' 'The Marquis de Leville, whom I have always regarded as a pleasant fellow, came up to me in the Academy of Music lobby, while I was chatting with the new tenant. He seemed only disposed to engage in some pleasantries. 'General,' said he, 'I have just heard you highly complimented by a lady.' 'Indeed?' said I. 'That is unusual at my time of life. Pray, who might have done me that honor?' And I asked him if it was a lady who accompanied him. He said it was, and then he asked: 'I saw you in the lobby when you were surrounded by a lady and a diplomat. I am a humbug.' 'How can you say such a thing?' I asked. 'I never saw your diploma and know nothing about it.' 'But another lady says you imagined the authenticity of my Roman diploma.' 'I answered, 'I could not tell the gossamer from the spurious. I am no authority on such things.' 'The Marquis de Leville, whom I have always regarded as a pleasant fellow, came up to me in the Academy of Music lobby, while I was chatting with the new tenant. He seemed only disposed to engage in some pleasantries. 'General,' said he, 'I have just heard you highly complimented by a lady.' 'Indeed?' said I. 'That is unusual at my time of life. Pray, who might have done me that honor?' And I asked him if it was a lady who accompanied him. He said it was, and then he asked: 'I saw you in the lobby when you were surrounded by a lady and a diplomat. I am a humbug.' 'How can you say such a thing?' I asked. 'I never saw your diploma and know nothing about it.' 'But another lady says you imagined the authenticity of my Roman diploma.' 'I answered, 'I could not tell the gossamer from the spurious. I am no authority on such things.' 'The Marquis de Leville, whom I have always regarded as a pleasant fellow, came up to me in the Academy of Music lobby, while I was chatting with the new tenant. He seemed only disposed to engage in some pleasantries. 'General,' said he, 'I have just heard you highly complimented by a lady.' 'Indeed?' said I. 'That is unusual at my time of life. Pray, who might have done me that honor?' And I asked him if it was a lady who accompanied him. He said it was, and then he asked: 'I saw you in the lobby when you were surrounded by a lady and a diplomat. I am a humbug.' 'How can you say such a thing?' I asked. 'I never saw your diploma and know nothing about it.' 'But another lady says you imagined the authenticity of my Roman diploma.' 'I answered, 'I could not tell the gossamer from the spurious. I am no authority on such things.' 'The Marquis de Leville, whom I have always regarded as a pleasant fellow, came up to me in the Academy of Music lobby, while I was chatting with the new tenant. He seemed only disposed to engage in some pleasantries. 'General,' said he, 'I have just heard you highly complimented by a lady.' 'Indeed?' said I. 'That is unusual at my time of life. Pray, who might have done me that honor?' And I asked him if it was a lady who accompanied him. He said it was, and then he asked: 'I saw you in the lobby when you were surrounded by a lady and a diplomat. I am a humbug.' 'How can you say such a thing?' I asked. 'I never saw your diploma and know nothing about it.' 'But another lady says you imagined the authenticity of my Roman diploma.' 'I answered, 'I could not tell the gossamer from the spurious. I am no authority on such things.' 'The Marquis de Leville, whom I have always regarded as a pleasant fellow, came up to me in the Academy of Music lobby, while I was chatting with the new tenant. He seemed only disposed to engage in some pleasantries. 'General,' said he, 'I have just heard you highly complimented by a lady.' 'Indeed?' said I. 'That is unusual at my time of life. Pray, who might have done me that honor?' And I asked him if it was a lady who accompanied him. He said it was, and then he asked: 'I saw you in the lobby when you were surrounded by a lady and a diplomat. I am a humbug.' 'How can you say such a thing?' I asked. 'I never saw your diploma and know nothing about it.' 'But another lady says you imagined the authenticity of my Roman diploma.' 'I answered, 'I could not tell the gossamer from the spurious. I am no authority on such things.' 'The Marquis de Leville, whom I have always regarded as a pleasant fellow, came up to me in the Academy of Music lobby, while I was chatting with the new tenant. He seemed only disposed to engage in some pleasantries. 'General,' said he, 'I have just heard you highly complimented by a lady.' 'Indeed?' said I. 'That is unusual at my time of life. Pray, who might have done me that honor?' And I asked him if it was a lady who accompanied him. He said it was, and then he asked: 'I saw you in the lobby when you were surrounded by a lady and a diplomat. I am a humbug.' 'How can you say such a thing?' I asked. 'I never saw your diploma and know nothing about it.' 'But another lady says you imagined the authenticity of my Roman diploma.' 'I answered, 'I could not tell the gossamer from the spurious. I am no authority on such things.' 'The Marquis de Leville, whom I have always regarded as a pleasant fellow, came up to me in the Academy of Music lobby, while I was chatting with the new tenant. He seemed only disposed to engage in some pleasantries. 'General,' said he, 'I have just heard you highly complimented by a lady.' 'Indeed?' said I. 'That is unusual at my time of life. Pray, who might have done me that honor?' And I asked him if it was a lady who accompanied him. He said it was, and then he asked: 'I saw you in the lobby when you were surrounded by a lady and a diplomat. I am a humbug.' 'How can you say such a thing?' I asked. 'I never saw your diploma and know nothing about it.' 'But another lady says you imagined the authenticity of my Roman diploma.' 'I answered, 'I could not tell the gossamer from the spurious. I am no authority on such things.' 'The Marquis de Leville, whom I have always regarded as a pleasant fellow, came up to me in the Academy of Music lobby, while I was chatting with the new tenant. He seemed only disposed to engage in some pleasantries. 'General,' said he, 'I have just heard you highly complimented by a lady.' 'Indeed?' said I. 'That is unusual at my time of life. Pray, who might have done me that honor?' And I asked him if it was a lady who accompanied him. He said it was, and then he asked: 'I saw you in the lobby when you were surrounded by a lady and a diplomat. I am a humbug.' 'How can you say such a thing?' I asked. 'I never saw your diploma and know nothing about it.' 'But another lady says you imagined the authenticity of my Roman diploma.' 'I answered, 'I could not tell the gossamer from the spurious. I am no authority on such things.' 'The Marquis de Leville, whom I have always regarded as a pleasant fellow, came up to me in the Academy of Music lobby, while I was chatting with the new tenant. He seemed only disposed to engage in some pleasantries. 'General,' said he, 'I have just heard you highly complimented by a lady.' 'Indeed?' said I. 'That is unusual at my time of life. Pray, who might have done me that honor?' And I asked him if it was a lady who accompanied him. He said it was, and then he asked: 'I saw you in the lobby when you were surrounded by a lady and a diplomat. I am a humbug.' 'How can you say such a thing?' I asked. 'I never saw your diploma and know nothing about it.' 'But another lady says you imagined the authenticity of my Roman diploma.' 'I answered, 'I could not tell the gossamer from the spurious. I am no authority on such things.' 'The Marquis de Leville, whom I have always regarded as a pleasant fellow, came up to me in the Academy of Music lobby, while I was chatting with the new tenant. He seemed only disposed to engage in some pleasantries. 'General,' said he, 'I have just heard you highly complimented by a lady.' 'Indeed?' said I. 'That is unusual at my time of life. Pray, who might have done me that honor?' And I asked him if it was a lady who accompanied him. He said it was, and then he asked: 'I saw you in the lobby when you were surrounded by a lady and a diplomat. I am a humbug.' 'How can you say such a thing?' I asked. 'I never saw your diploma and know nothing about it.' 'But another lady says you imagined the authenticity of my Roman diploma.' 'I answered, 'I could not tell the gossamer from the spurious. I am no authority on such things.' 'The Marquis de Leville, whom I have always regarded as a pleasant fellow, came up to me in the Academy of Music lobby, while I was chatting with the new tenant. He seemed only disposed to engage in some pleasantries. 'General,' said he, 'I have just heard you highly complimented by a lady.' 'Indeed?' said I. 'That is unusual at my time of life. Pray, who might have done me that honor?' And I asked him if it was a lady who accompanied him. He said it was, and then he asked: 'I saw you in the lobby when you were surrounded by a lady and a diplomat. I am a humbug.' 'How can you say such a thing?' I asked. 'I never saw your diploma and know nothing about it.' 'But another lady says you imagined the authenticity of my Roman diploma.' 'I answered, 'I could not tell the gossamer from the spurious. I am no authority on such things.' 'The Marquis de Leville, whom I have always regarded as a pleasant fellow, came up to me in the Academy of Music lobby, while I was chatting with the new tenant. He seemed only disposed to engage in some pleasantries. 'General,' said he, 'I have just heard you highly complimented by a lady.' 'Indeed?' said I. 'That is unusual at my time of life. Pray, who might have done me that honor?' And I asked him if it was a lady who accompanied him. He said it was, and then he asked: 'I saw you in the lobby when you were surrounded by a lady and a diplomat. I am a humbug.' 'How can you say such a thing?' I asked. 'I never saw your diploma and know nothing about it.' 'But another lady says you imagined the authenticity of my Roman diploma.' 'I answered, 'I could not tell the gossamer from the spurious. I am no authority on such things.' 'The Marquis de Leville, whom I have always regarded as a pleasant fellow, came up to me in the Academy of Music lobby, while I was chatting with the new tenant. He seemed only disposed to engage in some pleasantries. 'General,' said he, 'I have just heard you highly complimented by a lady.' 'Indeed?' said I. 'That is unusual at my time of life. Pray, who might have done me that honor?' And I asked him if it was a lady who accompanied him. He said it was, and then he asked: 'I saw you in the lobby when you were surrounded by a lady and a diplomat. I am a humbug.' 'How can you say such a thing?' I asked. 'I never saw your diploma and know nothing about it.' 'But another lady says you imagined the authenticity of my Roman diploma.' 'I answered, 'I could not tell the gossamer from the spurious. I am no authority on such things.' 'The Marquis de Leville, whom I have always regarded as a pleasant fellow, came up to me in the Academy of Music lobby, while I was chatting with the new tenant. He seemed only disposed to engage in some pleasantries. 'General,' said he, 'I have just heard you highly complimented by a lady.' 'Indeed?' said I. 'That is unusual at my time of life. Pray, who might have done me that honor?' And I asked him if it was a lady who accompanied him. He said it was, and then he asked: 'I saw you in the lobby when you were surrounded by a lady and a diplomat. I am a humbug.' 'How can you say such a thing?' I asked. 'I never saw your diploma and know nothing about it.' 'But another lady says you imagined the authenticity of my Roman diploma.' 'I answered, 'I could not tell the gossamer from the spurious. I am no authority on such things.' 'The Marquis de Leville, whom I have always regarded as a pleasant fellow, came up to me in the Academy of Music lobby, while I was chatting with the new tenant. He seemed only disposed to engage in some pleasantries. 'General,' said he, 'I have just heard you highly complimented by a lady.' 'Indeed?' said I. 'That is unusual at my time of life. Pray, who might have done me that honor?' And I asked him if it was a lady who accompanied him. He said it was, and then he asked: 'I saw you in the lobby when you were surrounded by a lady and a diplomat. I am a humbug.' 'How can you say such a thing?' I asked. 'I never saw your diploma and know nothing about it.' 'But another lady says you imagined the authenticity of my Roman diploma.' 'I answered, 'I could not tell the gossamer from the spurious. I am no authority on such things.' 'The Marquis de Leville, whom I have always regarded as a pleasant fellow, came up to me in the Academy of Music lobby, while I was chatting with the new tenant. He seemed only disposed to engage in some pleasantries. 'General,' said he, 'I have just heard you highly complimented by a lady.' 'Indeed?' said I. 'That is unusual at my time of life. Pray, who might have done me that honor?' And I asked him if it was a lady who accompanied him. He said it was, and then he asked: 'I saw you in the lobby when you were surrounded by a lady and a diplomat. I am a humbug.' 'How can you say such a thing?' I asked. 'I never saw your diploma and know nothing about it.' 'But another lady says you imagined the authenticity of my Roman diploma.' 'I answered, 'I could not tell the gossamer from the spurious. I am no authority on such things.' 'The Marquis de Leville, whom I have always regarded as a pleasant fellow, came up to me in the Academy of Music lobby, while I was chatting with the new tenant. He seemed only disposed to engage in some pleasantries. 'General,' said he, 'I have just heard you highly complimented by a lady.' 'Indeed?' said I. 'That is unusual at my time of life. Pray, who might have done me that honor?' And I asked him if it was a lady who accompanied him. He said it was, and then he asked: 'I saw you in the lobby when you were surrounded by a lady and a diplomat. I am a humbug.' 'How can you say such a thing?' I asked. 'I never saw your diploma and know nothing about it.' 'But another lady says you imagined the authenticity of my Roman diploma.' 'I answered, 'I could not tell the gossamer from the spurious. I am no authority on such things.' 'The Marquis de Leville, whom I have always regarded as a pleasant fellow, came up to me in the Academy of Music lobby, while I was chatting with the new tenant. He seemed only disposed to engage in some pleasantries. 'General,' said he, 'I have just heard you highly complimented by a lady.' 'Indeed?' said I. 'That is unusual at my time of life. Pray, who might have done me that honor?' And I asked him if it was a lady who accompanied him. He said it was, and then he asked: 'I saw you in the lobby when you were surrounded by a lady and a diplomat. I am a humbug.' 'How can you say such a thing?' I asked. 'I never saw your diploma and know nothing about it.' 'But another lady says you imagined the authenticity of my Roman diploma.' 'I answered, 'I could not tell the gossamer from the spurious. I am no authority on such things.' 'The Marquis de Leville, whom I have always regarded as a pleasant fellow, came up to me in the Academy of Music lobby, while I was chatting with the new tenant. He seemed only disposed to engage in some pleasantries. 'General,' said he, 'I have just heard you highly complimented by a lady.' 'Indeed?' said I. 'That is unusual at my time of life. Pray, who might have done me that honor?' And I asked him if it was a lady who accompanied him. He said it was, and then he asked: 'I saw you in the lobby when you were surrounded by a lady and a diplomat. I am a humbug.' 'How can you say such a thing?' I asked. 'I never saw your diploma and know nothing about it.' 'But another lady says you imagined the authenticity of my Roman diploma.' 'I answered, 'I could not tell the gossamer from the spurious. I am no authority on such things.' 'The Marquis de Leville, whom I have always regarded as a pleasant fellow, came up to me in the Academy of Music lobby, while I was chatting with the new tenant. He seemed only disposed to engage in some pleasantries. 'General,' said he, 'I have just heard you highly complimented by a lady.' 'Indeed?' said I. 'That is unusual at my time of life. Pray, who might have done me that honor?' And I asked him if it was a lady who accompanied him. He said it was, and then he asked: 'I saw you in the lobby when you were surrounded by a lady and a diplomat. I am a humbug.' 'How can you say such a thing?' I asked. 'I never saw your diploma and know nothing about it.' 'But another lady says you imagined the authenticity of my Roman diploma.' 'I answered, 'I could not tell the gossamer from the spurious. I am no authority on such things.' 'The Marquis de Leville, whom I have always regarded as a pleasant fellow, came up to me in the Academy of Music lobby, while I was chatting with the new tenant. He seemed only disposed to engage in some pleasantries. 'General,' said he, 'I have just heard you highly complimented by a lady.' 'Indeed?' said I. 'That is unusual at my time of life. Pray, who might have done me that honor?' And I asked him if it was a lady who accompanied him. He said it was, and then he asked: 'I saw you in the lobby when you were surrounded by a lady and a diplomat. I am a humbug.' 'How can you say such a thing?' I asked. 'I never saw your diploma and know nothing about it.' 'But another lady says you imagined the authenticity of my Roman diploma.' 'I answered, 'I could not tell the gossamer from the spurious. I am no authority on such things.' 'The Marquis de Leville, whom I have always regarded as a pleasant fellow, came up to me in the Academy of Music lobby, while I was chatting with the new tenant. He seemed only disposed to engage in some pleasantries. 'General,' said he, 'I have just heard you highly complimented by a lady.' 'Indeed?' said I. 'That is unusual at my time of life. Pray, who might have done me that honor?' And I asked him if it was a lady who accompanied him. He said it was, and then he asked: 'I saw you in the lobby when you were surrounded by a lady and a diplomat. I am a humbug.' 'How can you say such a thing?' I asked. 'I never saw your diploma and know nothing about it.' 'But another lady says you imagined the authenticity of my Roman diploma.' 'I answered, 'I could not tell the gossamer from the spurious. I am no authority on such things.' 'The Marquis de Leville, whom I have always regarded as a pleasant fellow, came up to me in the Academy of Music lobby, while I was chatting with the new tenant. He seemed only disposed to engage in some pleasantries. 'General,' said he, 'I have just heard you highly complimented by a lady.' 'Indeed?' said I. 'That is unusual at my time of life. Pray, who might have done me that honor?' And I asked him if it was a lady who accompanied him. He said it was, and then he asked: 'I saw you in the lobby when you were surrounded by a lady and a diplomat. I am a humbug.' 'How can you say such a thing?' I asked. 'I never saw your diploma and know nothing about it.' 'But another lady says you imagined the authenticity of my Roman diploma.' 'I answered, 'I could not tell the gossamer from the spurious. I am no authority on such things.' 'The Marquis de Leville, whom I have always regarded as a pleasant fellow, came up to me in the Academy of Music lobby, while I was chatting with the new tenant. He seemed only disposed to engage in some pleasantries. 'General,' said he, 'I have just heard you highly complimented by a lady.' 'Indeed?' said I. 'That is unusual at my time of life. Pray, who might have done me that honor?' And I asked him if it was a lady who accompanied him. He said it was, and then he asked: 'I saw you in the lobby when you were surrounded by a lady and a diplomat. I am a humbug.' 'How can you say such a thing?' I asked. 'I never saw your diploma and know nothing about it.' 'But another lady says you imagined the authenticity of my Roman diploma.' 'I answered, 'I could not tell the gossamer from the spurious. I am no authority on such things.' 'The Marquis de Leville, whom I have always regarded as a pleasant fellow, came up to me in the Academy of Music lobby, while I was chatting with the new tenant. He seemed only disposed to engage in some pleasantries. 'General,' said he, 'I have just heard you highly complimented by a lady.' 'Indeed?' said I. 'That is unusual at my time of life. Pray, who might have done me that honor?' And I asked him if it was a lady who accompanied him. He said it was, and then he asked: 'I saw you in the lobby when you were surrounded by a lady and a diplomat. I am a humbug.' 'How can you say such a thing?' I asked. 'I never saw your diploma and know nothing about it.' 'But another lady says you imagined the authenticity of my Roman diploma.' 'I answered, 'I could not tell the gossamer from the spurious. I am no authority on such things.' 'The Marquis de Leville, whom I have always regarded as a pleasant fellow, came up to me in the Academy of Music lobby, while I was chatting with the new tenant. He seemed only disposed to engage in some pleasantries. 'General,' said he, 'I have just heard you highly complimented by a lady.' 'Indeed?' said I. 'That is unusual at my time of life. Pray, who might have done me that honor?' And I asked him if it was a lady who accompanied him. He said it was, and then he asked: 'I saw you in the lobby when you were surrounded by a lady and a diplomat. I am a humbug.' 'How can you say such a thing?' I asked. 'I never saw your diploma and know nothing about it.' 'But another lady says you imagined the authenticity of my Roman diploma.' 'I answered, 'I could not tell the gossamer from the spurious. I am no authority on such things.' 'The Marquis de Leville, whom I have always regarded as a pleasant fellow, came up to me in the Academy of Music lobby, while I was chatting with the new tenant. He seemed only disposed to engage in some pleasantries. 'General,' said he, 'I have just heard you highly complimented by a lady.' 'Indeed?' said I. 'That is unusual at my time of life. Pray, who might have done me that honor?' And I asked him if it was a lady who accompanied him. He said it was, and then he asked: 'I saw you in the lobby when you were surrounded by a lady and a diplomat. I am a humbug.' 'How can you say such a thing?' I asked. 'I never saw your diploma and know nothing about it.' 'But another lady says you imagined the authenticity of my Roman diploma.' 'I answered, 'I could not tell the gossamer from the spurious. I am no authority on such things.' 'The Marquis de Leville, whom I have always regarded as a pleasant fellow, came up to me in the Academy of Music lobby, while I was chatting with the new tenant. He seemed only disposed to engage in some pleasantries. 'General,' said he, 'I have just heard you highly complimented by a lady.' 'Indeed?' said I. 'That is unusual at my time of life. Pray, who might have done me that honor?' And I asked him if it was a lady who accompanied him. He said it was, and then he asked: 'I saw you in the lobby when you were surrounded by a lady and a diplomat. I am a humbug.' 'How can you say such a thing?' I asked. 'I never saw your diploma and know nothing about it.' 'But another lady says you imagined the authenticity of my Roman diploma.' 'I answered, 'I could not tell the gossamer from the spurious. I am no authority on such things.' 'The Marquis de Leville, whom I have always regarded as a pleasant fellow, came up to me in the Academy of Music lobby, while I was chatting with the new tenant. He seemed only disposed to engage in some pleasantries. 'General,' said he, 'I have just heard you highly complimented by a lady.' 'Indeed?' said I. 'That is unusual at my time of life. Pray, who might have done me that honor?' And I asked him if it was a lady who accompanied him. He said it was, and then

NEW OPEN!

AND READY FOR BUSINESS.

Fire, Smoke, Water!

$33,000

(More or less) Worth of goods

READY-MADE CLOTHING!

Saved from the late fire at Broome street, New York, have been placed on sale and will continue from day to day until the entire stock is sold. Never before have the people been offered such inducements as are offered by the Great

New York Fire Store!

These goods were rated at forty cents less on the dollar, and willand must be sold accordingly by order of the companies concerned. In addition to these goods a large stock of

CLOTHING,

Gents' Furnishing Goods,

Hats and Winter Caps

Purchased at bankrupt sales at about one-third of their value, will be sold at prices which will astonish the closest buyer.

Remember that these goods are of the best quality; Dark, Heavy, Winter Goods, not shop worn, light colored and light weight summer goods, but goods just in season and not to be surpassed in any city by goods at three times their cost.

Overcoats

FOR MEN AND BOYS

Suits For Men and Boys

ODD PANTS

For Men and Boys, GREAT NEW YORK FIRE STORE, South Main Street, Janesville, Wis. opposite C. B. Conrad's the grocer.

THE INSURANCE COMPANIES ORDERED THESE GOODS TO BE SOLD, AND SOLD THEY MUST BE AT LESS THAN FORTY CENTS ON THE DOLLAR.

Note a Few Starters.

Or better Come and Judge for Yourself.

CLOTHING, and GENTS' FURNISHINGS AT YOUR OWN PRICE.

You cannot afford to buy one dollar's worth before seeing our goods, which must be sold at any price.

Remember the Place at the

The New York Fire Store.

Next to Temperance Saloon and opposite Conrad's Grocery and Methodist Church, Near the Park.

Notice to Stockholders.

A special meeting of the stockholders of the Janesville Fire Store, Inc., will be held at the office of the company, on Monday, Dec. 22, 1908, at 2 o'clock p.m. for the purpose of electing new directors for the ensuing year.

Stockholders' Meeting.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of this bank for the election of directors, will be held at the banking office on Tuesday, the 15th day of January, 1909, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 12 m.

WHEELER & STEVENS

This is the liveliest Real Estate firm ever organized in Rock County.

They have more Farm Property More Houses and Lots.

and more unoccupied lands for sale on reasonable terms than any other firm in Southern Wisconsin. They also have a large stock of building materials and all the things necessary for the construction of any building.

WHEELER & STEVENS,

Office, Phoenix Block, Janesville, Wis.

April 17

THE GAZETTE.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 18.

NO DISCRIMINATION.

THE REAGAN BILL NOW COVERS MORE GROUND

Than Was Intended by Its Author—Senators Take a Belligerent Stand on the Naval Appropriation—Miscellaneous Capital Outings.

WASHINGTON CITY, Dec. 18.—The question on O'Hara's amendment to the Reagan inter-state commerce bill came up again today. Wednesday, and the matter was quite a lively political debate, the matter finally being left in pretty much the same condition as Tuesday. The first question was on O'Hara's motion, to lay O'Hara's motion to reconsider the vote by which O'Hara's amendment had been adopted on the table. O'Hara's motion was carried, and then Crisp, of Georgia, offered an amendment providing that nothing in the act should prevent any railway company from providing separate accommodations for colored people. He said Georgia required the railways to furnish equal facilities to all, regardless of color, and Snells, of South Carolina, remarked in reply that in Crisp's state colored passengers were forced to travel in smoking or "Jim Crow" cars.

Herbert, of Alabama, said there was no disposition on the part of southern Democrats to deny to any class equal facilities in travel. He charged that the amendment of O'Hara was intended to renew political agitation and arouse political prejudices.

O'Hara regretted that the color question had been rejected in the debate. All were American citizens, and it was too soon for the American congress to consider the color question.

Breakeridge, of Arkansas, offered a substitute providing that nothing in the act should be construed to prohibit railroads from classifying passengers as they may deem best for comfort and safety and that it shall not apply to points within a single state.

Reagan said the gentleman had sought to be humorous. He did not know that railroads conducted for the comfort of passengers. Reagan said there was no sorting of passengers in New England or New York.

Crisp said he had not intended to raise a political question. He had not been surprised that the colored people of the country desired a "mixing of the elements." Neither did he suppose any large portion of the whites of the country desired such a mixing.

Henry of California, said that in the proposed amendment, the question of passenger appearance was not to be considered. Therefore the gentleman from Maine need have no apprehensions.

Bramm of Pennsylvania, said he found the color line so clearly defined that the colored passengers attending the funeral of a late senator from Georgia were not allowed to sit in the same room with the funeral cortege.

Barkdale of Mississippi, said in Mississippi there was actually no discrimination made.

Brown of Indiana, said the world would, and the spirit of John Brown went marching on. Only a few years ago, in a national capital a distinguished physician of Boston was put out of the street cars because he was half black. He did not object so much to the black half as he did to the rejection of the white half. He denied that this was a social question. He had seen cases of intermarriage of the races and as far as his experience went the durkney invariably got the worst of the bargain. The time had come when there should be no end to class legislation.

Further debate was cut off by a demand by Reagan for the previous question, and Breakeridge's substitute was agreed to—yeas, 138; nays, 127. The amendment as amended was then agreed to—yeas, 137; nays, 131.

Mills of Texas, offered an amendment making 2 cents per mile the maximum charge for the transportation of passengers from one state into another. Agreed to—yeas, 138; nays, 127.

Goff of West Virginia, moved to add to Breakeridge's amendment the words "No discrimination shall be made on account of race or color." Agreed to—yeas, 138; nays, 127. Pending a motion to reconsider and to lay that motion on the table, Reagan, as on Tuesday, interposed a motion to adjourn, and the house at 4:45 p. m. adjourned.

Unpleasantness Between House and Senate. WASHINGTON CITY, Dec. 18.—On Wednesday the senate when hour called up a resolution giving the house bills precedence over senate bills. Pending the resolution the objection that there were a large number of measures of national importance passed by the senate which the house had failed to consider, and until there was some nearer approach to reciprocity between the two houses he opposed giving the house bills precedence. The senate then took up the naval appropriation bill and Hale explained that the proposition of the senate to appoint new conferees on the naval bill, if it had been passed, had been ignored by the house. Whether such action comported with the courtesy usually maintained by the two bodies, senators must judge for themselves. Instead of adopting the house bill making available a lump appropriation for the remaining six months of the year the senate committee on appropriations now proposed to make an appropriation in detail, deducting the amounts already appropriated from each item, and to send the bill over to the house and leave with them the responsibility of saying whether this great department should be provided with money or not.

The Senate Inquiry. WASHINGTON CITY, Dec. 18.—In the Springer investigation, on Wednesday, clerks in the comptroller's office, and others, testified that Barker's reputation for veracity was high. Judge Lawrence offered evidence of a number of clerks in his office to disprove the statement of Barker that the clerks in the judiciary division passed upon fraudulent accounts knowing them to be false, because they did not want to get at loggerheads with their superior officers.

After examining other witnesses, whose testimony reflected very seriously on Barker's reputation, the sub-committee adjourned subject to call. A report in the Barker case will be submitted early in January.

ASIDE will show that the sovereignty of Nicaragua is not involved; that the United States does not propose an acquisition of territory or the right of eminent domain or to secure political control of Nicaragua by this treaty, and that with the exception of favoring tolls to coastwise commerce carried on by citizens of the United States and Nicaragua, all other nations are to enjoy its peaceful use on equal terms.

The treaty provides for the construction, maintenance and control of an inter-oceanic canal across the territory of Nicaragua. It is to be a government and not a corporation enterprise. The United States government will furnish the capital for constructing the canal and both governments will own and control the waterway. The United States will have full power to select the route and the entrance works, and to arrange all the practical details of construction, the establishment of a railway and telegraph line, and the location of all necessary engineering works. At the same time the United States will assume the responsibility of defending the territory through which the canal passes.

Congress Summarized. WASHINGTON CITY, Dec. 18.—In the senate Wednesday the chair submitted a communication from the secretary of the navy stating that he had ordered two civil engineers and an ensign to visit Nicaragua and survey a route for the proposed canal. Dawes presented a petition for cancelling the lease of grazing lands made by the Crow Indians to the United States. He introduced a bill to make telegraph and railway rates west of the Missouri river the same as the average to the eastward thereof. The senate passed the navy appropriation bill, in the senate session Wednesday again spent an hour in considering the confirmation of Secretary McCulloch.

The house of representatives, in considering the inter-state commerce bill, rejected the amendment of the senate against race discrimination in transporting passengers. After prolonged debate it was agreed to add a clause, conceding to railroads the right to provide such separate accommodations for passengers as is deemed best for public comfort and safety, not this was amended to prohibit discrimination on account of color. An amendment was adopted prohibiting a charge in excess of 2 cents per mile from one state or territory to the other.

Lincoln on Hovey and Greely. WASHINGTON CITY, Dec. 18.—Secretary Lincoln said to a Star reporter Wednesday that the recent publications made it useless for him to continue to present the search for Hovey, and he believed they were made in the interest of that defeating official.

Lincoln said that the report that "Hovey" had been an accomplice of Greely, "I have had no such suspicions in the matter," replied the secretary. "I have been very careful in making an investigation in allowing his own name to be used as giving out information which was rendered useless by being published, and if he is correctly reported in making a remark as to friendship for a man willing to sell his name for a reward, which implied he regarded him as an unfortunate man rather than an escaped criminal, I say that was unfortunate, in that it tends to give the color of suspicion for the friendship felt and aid rendered by the persons formerly with him in the signal service."

Riddleberger Keeps Up Opposition. WASHINGTON CITY, Dec. 18.—The executive session Wednesday consumed more than an hour, the greater part of the time being taken up by Senator Riddleberger, of Virginia, who continued at great length his speech in opposition to the confirmation of Hon. Hugh McCulloch, to be secretary of the treasury. Among other documents read by the senate was Secretary McCulloch's last annual report.

CRITICISING BLAINE'S ACTION.

Washington Comment on the Libel Suit—What The Sentinel Says.

WASHINGTON CITY, Dec. 18.—The dismissal of Mr. Blaine's libel suit at the instance of the Indianapolis Sentinel, has created quite a commotion here. Many persons express regret that he has taken such a course, feeling that it was due to himself and to his party to fight it to the bitter end.

Republicans at this hour are giving the Democrats an opportunity to say so many unkind things—so many opportunities they are not slow to improve. The general feeling is that if the Sentinel statement is true, Mr. Blaine made a mistake in bringing the suit, and if it were false he ought not to have dismissed it. Whether he could secure a just verdict from an Indiana jury or not, a hearing would have placed the matter before the people, and they could have made up their judgment irrespective of the twelve men of Indiana might say.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 18.—The Sentinel, under the heading of "Gossip," Mr. Blaine's dismissal of his libel suit, says that it is a mistake to suppose that Mr. Blaine would sooner or later make a virtue of necessity by stepping down and out of court. Mr. Blaine is no prudent man, and he has made up his mind to fight the suit to the bitter end.

The double standard of the Sentinel and its conclusion not to have applied to himself the same course ending of the same passage. "But the wicked pass on and are punished." If Mr. Blaine's judgment in bringing the suit against us, we at least will compliment it in deciding to drop it. In the language of Mr. Sam Weller to Mr. Pickwick (when, after the latter's adventure with the Indian, he had been rescued and was about to return to his hotel alone again), "That's the very prudentest resolution as you could come to, sir." The Sentinel then makes a savage attack on Mr. Blaine, saying that he could not obtain justice in Indiana, and says it is an insult to the state. The Republicans seem to agree that Mr. Blaine acted wisely, and many Democrats disapprove of the Sentinel's course.

A Distinguished Officer Dying. BOSTON, Dec. 17.—Hon. Robert C. Winthrop, the distinguished orator and statesman, died of pneumonia at his home in Boston, at the age of 75 years. He was the last of a long line of public men who served the nation in 1847-48. In 1850 he succeeded Daniel Webster by appointment, in the United States senate, where Mr. Webster had been called to Fillmore's cabinet. In the memorable contest of the next winter's legislature Mr. Winthrop was beaten for the succession by Charles Sumner. He ran for governor of Massachusetts in 1851, and was defeated by the successful coalition of Bowdoin, Wilson, Sumner, Burleigh and other young leaders of that day. With that year he practically retired from politics, and of late years has been prominent as a statesman. His private life has been marked by the devotion to the Washington monument, of which, as speaker of the house, he laid the corner stone.

Mr. Winthrop took a severe cold while visiting his country residence at Brookline, last week, which developed into pneumonia, and he has been confined to his bed since Thursday. But few of his friends are allowed to see him.

Buckley's Arnica Salve. The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, sore eyes, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by F. Sherer & Co.

FOR DYSPENTIA, INDIGESTION, Depression of Spirits and General Debility, in their various forms; also as a preventive against Fever and Ague, and other intermittent fevers, the "FERRO-CHINA" is the best remedy. It is sold by all druggists, and is the best for all patients recovering from Fever and other sickness. It has no equal.

The best on earth, can truly be said of Griggs' Glycerine Salve, which is a sure and speedy cure for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, chilblains, and all skin eruptions. It is sold by all druggists, and is the best for all patients recovering from Fever and other sickness. It has no equal.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla marvelously braces up the system; purifies and invigorates. Every invalid needs it.

Very Remarkable Recovery. Mr. George V. Willing, of Manchester, Michigan, writes: "My wife has been almost helpless for five years, so helpless that she could not turn over in bed alone. She used two bottles of Electric Bitters, and is now improved so that she is able now to do her own work."

CONDENSED NEWS.

Rev. T. B. Fuller, Episcopal bishop of Hamilton, Ont., died of blood-poisoning, caused by running a nail into his hand. At a trial of the Haskell multicharge gun at Sandy Hook, a shot weighing 153 pounds was sent nearly four miles at the rate of 1,800 feet per second.

The prosecution has closed in the Crook murder case at Jackson, Michigan, and the defense has a dismissal because of the failure of the state to prove what had been alleged.

Representatives of the Lake Superior iron interest, claiming to have $30,000,000 behind them, met at Cleveland, and met the iron interests in opposition to the ratification of the treaty with Spain.

Capt. Pin, of the British navy, has been at Ottawa, discussing with John A. Macdonald his scheme for a railway from Cheyenne to Hudson's bay for the transportation of mail and passengers.

Early Thursday morning the mercury in Chicago fell to six degrees below zero. California reports a heavy rain throughout the state. Railway traffic is suspended in the Willamette valley of Oregon by a snow-storm.

For certain reflections on the veracity of Mr. Chamberlain, president of the British board of trade, made by The Pilot at Birmingham, some tough citizens entered the newspaper office and violently assaulted the editor.

The governor of Michigan pardoned four convicts Wednesday, and commuted the sentences of a like number. Among the latter is Dan Van Wageningen, sent from Kalamazoo for forty-five years for attempted murder, who is to be released twelve months.

In the latest list of insolvents are the names of Kiegel & Robinson, clothiers of Buffalo, with liabilities of $120,000; John McMillen & Co., oil dealers at Boston; Foris & Avery, paint merchants in Chicago, who owe $25,000; and Chapman & Spencer, of the same city, dealers in machinery's supplies.

A prominent Ohio Democrat states that Judge Thurman has recently received from Daniel Manning a letter asking him to accept the position of secretary of the treasury. Judge Thurman will decline, for fear of creating a hopeless division in the party in Ohio.

An American vessel from Rio de Janeiro brought news of a probable discovery of hostilities between Brazil and the Argentine Republic. The Brazilians have made ready their navy, and are conspiring for their army. The Argentines are credited with a force of 120,000 men.

Judge Woods of Indianapolis, positively refused to sign the records of its court the statement of James G. Blaine that a fair trial of his libel suit against The Sentinel could not be had in Indiana. The entry was therefore made that the charge was voluntarily dismissed.

A jury at Syracuse, N. Y., acquitted Mrs. Rauber of the charge of murdering Adam Suter, with whom she had sustained criminal relations, and who threatened her and said he would use her for his own purposes. She had been indicted for the same crime. The jury found her not guilty.

The Post-Whitaker's Birthday. ASHESBURY, Mass., Dec. 18.—Wednesday was the 77th birthday of the poet, Whitaker, and a large number of his friends called on him to extend their congratulations on the occasion. The poet was in excellent health and spirits, and his friends were very numerous.

Marriage of a Chicago Cattle King. PROVIDENCE, Dec. 18.—Maud, daughter of J. D. Barnaby, the well known retail clothing dealer of this city, was married Wednesday evening to Charles Howard Conrad, the Chicago cattle king. The wedding gifts were profuse, being valued at $50,000. Among them was a diamond necklace, worth $17,000, a present from the bride's father.

Shock of Earthquake in New Hampshire. LACONIA, N. H., Dec. 18.—A severe shock of earthquake was felt here Wednesday morning at about 5 o'clock. People were awakened and windows and crockery rattled. The courts of the city seemed to be in motion. The shock felt in Contra Harbor was even more severe.

Condition of R. C. Winthrop. BOSTON, Dec. 18.—Up to 12 o'clock Wednesday, the condition of Hon. R. C. Winthrop was unchanged. His lungs are badly congested, and his recovery is very doubtful. The physicians rely on his great will power and robust constitution to bring him out all right.

Report of Kosuth's Death. LONDON, Dec. 18.—The report of Kosuth's death is unconfirmed.

THE MARKETS. CHICAGO, Dec. 17.—Allan McIntyre & Co.'s market circular of this evening gives the following prices on the board of trade to-day: Wheat—January, opened 77 1/2, closed 77 1/2; February, opened 77 1/2, closed 77 1/2; March, opened 77 1/2, closed 77 1/2; Corn—January, opened 34 1/2, closed 34 1/2; February, opened 34 1/2, closed 34 1/2; March, opened 34 1/2, closed 34 1/2; Pork—January, opened 10 1/2, closed 10 1/2; February, opened 10 1/2, closed 10 1/2; March, opened 10 1/2, closed 10 1/2; Lard—January, opened 10 1/2, closed 10 1/2; February, opened 10 1/2, closed 10 1/2; March, opened 10 1/2, closed 10 1/2.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never sours. A marvel of purity and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kind, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low cost short weight, cheap or phony powders. Sold only in CAN. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 100 WALL STREET, NEW YORK.

BARGAINS

HATS, CAPS, SUITINGS!

FURNISHING GOODS

My Fall and Winter stock is now complete and embraces all the latest novelties.

J. L. FORD

Merchant Tailor, W. Milwaukee St.

MEN'S FINE SHOES

HAND AND MACHINE SEWED.

Manufactured for Fine Retail Trade, by the

ROCKFORD BOOT & SHOE MFG. CO.

ROCKFORD, ILL.

LIBBEY'S

PATENT PROTECTIVE

CONGRESS CATER

IMPROVED.

The finest gent's shoe in the market. When once adjusted to the foot can be removed or put on without lacing. Our assortment of Boots and Shoes and

RUBBER GOODS!

Is complete and will not be undersold. Call and examine.

TUCKWOOD BROS.

West Milwaukee Street.

CAMPBELL & WEBB,

General Negotiators for the

SALE OF FARMS

City Property, Notes and Mortgages

Loaning Money

And for Leasing Business and Property Collecting rents, etc.

Attention Tobacco Men—We have for sale the largest building located on the C. & N. W. R. track in this city; can be used for a tobacco warehouse without much outlay, come and see us. For more information in view of a trip to any of the western states or territories would do well by addressing personally or by letter the undersigned, and get pamphlets, maps and circulars, giving a detailed description of the country and lands they have for sale, also the prices of fare on the monthly and semi-monthly excursion now being sent out by the companies they represent. CAMPBELL & WEBB, Real estate and loan agents, West Milwaukee street, Janesville, Wis. Look Book 101. Office of the Milwaukee B. O. Co. West Milwaukee street, over J. L. Ford's.

STOVES, STOVES! Hardware.

Before you buy a stove call at Kimball & Lowell's store and see the

New Westminster for 1884

Perfection realized at last. Simple in its construction. Beautiful in design. The perfection of finish combining all the latest improvements with heating capacity that cannot be beaten. Full stock of Heating Stoves. Cooking Stoves. Ranges. Hardware. House furnishing goods, and Farm Machinery.

Tin work of all kinds done as cheap as a first class job will warrant.

KIMBALL & LOWELL.

POSITIVE Closing Out

SALE

Men's Boys & Children's Clothing

Overcoats, Etc.

The Chicago Cheap Store,

The great bargain store of Janesville, intends hereafter to confine themselves to the

DRY GOODS AND FANCY GOODS TRADE

And having over $15,000 Worth of First-Class Clothing

On hand, which we will sell for the next SIXTY DAYS at such prices that it will pay to buy for future use. Although we have always had the reputation of being the cheap store of Janesville, this sale will eclipse all our previous efforts, and we promise our friends the BEST BARGAINS ever offered in Janesville. No shop-worn, moth-eaten or fire stock, but all new goods, bought for spot cash the past six months, embracing everything in the line of wear for men, boys and children.

Besides the above we have a splendid line of Staple and Fancy Dry Goods, Hoods, Nubias, Ladies' and Children's Underwear, Blankets, Comfortables, Laces, Embroideries, Etc.

Which will be sold at our usual low prices, which means just about one third off other store prices.

CHICAGO STORE, West Milwaukee Street. Next Door to First National Bank.

The Great Bargain Store.

If you want a Range that beat them all buy a

JEWEL RANGE

OF Hanchett & Sheldon.

Will save 10 percent off fuel and please everybody. If you wish to heat a

STORE, SALOON, OFFICE, SCHOOL ROOM OR CHURCH

So the Mercury will indicate the same in all parts of the room.

Hanchett & Sheldon

Will show you one in operation. Owing to the elegant weather we have decided to sell for cash

100 STOVES AT FIRST COST.

HANCHETT & SHELDON.

AGENTS-WANTED FOR "CONQUERING THE WILDERNESS" No. 75

PAUMER & STEVENS, DRUGGISTS.

Subscribers to the Daily Gazette who do not receive their paper promptly, will please call at the office of the publisher, or at the office of the printer, at the corner of Main and Second streets, to have their names corrected.

LOCAL MATTERS.

Parents.

It is not strange that ladies sometimes find it difficult to make suitable selections to present to their boys, or that gentlemen sometimes make mistakes in purchasing for their girls. Fathers can help mothers to choose something to amuse the boys, mothers can assist fathers in selecting for the girls, for each can see at a glance what would have pleased themselves in childhood.

For the same reason fathers have been known to purchase for their daughters what they themselves would not wear.

To be sure there are some exceptions to the above, but human nature has changed but little, and children still love and need toys. Call and see us, a little money will provide a large quantity of happiness.

Gowdry Bros.

30 Main street.

The place for holiday goods is at the Chicago store, where the prices are so low that no cheap-trap inducements of a little candy used to be offered to induce customers to purchase. Our reputation for selling bargains is too well known for us to resort to any sensational style of advertising.

Fancy pieces of antique glass, at Wheelock's.

Two Grand Holiday Offers.

The New York Store presents to each customer purchasing goods to the amount of $1.00 a handsome box of fresh mixed candies, or if preferred, a chance on a beautiful doll, valued at $25. The most comprehensive line of suitable holiday gifts to be seen in this city. An inspection requested.

People at corner of Main & Milwaukee street look for our green sign with black letters. People near W. G. Wheelock's store look for our sign, white background with black letters. When on South Main street look for red background and green letters. Gowdry Bros.

New fruit plates at Wheelock's, of Dresden China, Vienna ware, &c.

500 heavy winter hoods are closing at 25 cents. Just think of it. They are actually worth 50c, 75c and $1.00. Call early and see the lot.

Bosworth & Sons.

Diamonds, diamond ear rings, studs, rings &c., at Fred H. Fellows', jeweler.

Wax candles and holders at Denniston's.

The nicest present to make an organist or piano player is one of those music stands at Warren Collins', it is what every musician ought to have to keep their collection of music and books in. They range in price from $5 to $7.

Holiday goods at Denniston's.

Imported Canaries $3.00 each, at Heintz's.

Handsome metal stand lamps with duplex burners and elegant globes, at Wheelock's.

Christmas trees and evergreen trimmings at Denniston's.

Meditate on this—500 winter hoods at 25 cents each, that are worth, from 50c to $1.00. It is less than the actual cost. What more can one ask for. Don't fail to see them, if nothing more.

Bosworth & Sons.

Try "Miller's asthma remedy" at El dredges.

Ladies' gold watches, fancy patterns: gold chains and lockets, at Fred H. Fellows', jeweler.

A cut glass bottle filled with a duo cologne, for 20 cents, at Stearns & Baker's.

Dr. Mitchell's Poems are for sale at all the bookstores.

Holiday goods at Prentice & Evenson's.

100 gold fish at 25 cents each, at Heintz's.

Holiday goods at Prentice & Evenson's.

A Garand coal stove nearly new, also a Crown Jewel parlor cook stove in good condition, and a few stoves that will be sold at bottom prices at the second hand store of Sanborn & Caniff's.

Kitty—A Seed and Hubbard cigar; 5 cents; Hubbard Cigarettes—a clear Hubbard cigar, 10 cents, at Oscar Heber's, near the Grand hotel.

Christmas candies and sweet meats, a large supply, at Denniston's.

New designs in Christmas cards at Warren Collins'.

Holiday goods at Prentice & Evenson's.

Cheap Fuel.

We have lots of good coal at $1.00 per load, delivered to any part of the city.

Dorr & McKay.

300 kittens to give to customers at Heintz's.

Clothing, hats, caps and furnishing goods are sold in accordance with the price of wheat and corn, at the New York Fire store, South Main street, opposite C. B. Conrad's.

Holiday goods at Prentice & Evenson's.

Malaga grapes, bananas, oranges, etc., at Denniston's.

WANTED—A competent girl to do general housework. Apply at Trinity church rectory.

Jewelry.

Beautiful display of watches, jewelry, French clocks, silver ware and novelties, at Fred H. Fellows', jeweler.

A very large line of comb and brush sets from $1.50 to $15, at Stearns & Baker's.

Holiday goods at Prentice & Evenson's.

Clothing for winter, for men and boys can be bought for very little money at the New York Fire store, South Main street, opposite Methodist church.

Holiday goods at Prentice & Evenson's.

Holiday goods at Prentice & Evenson's.

To Rent—An eight room house located at the corner of Mineral Point Avenue and Pearl streets, First ward.

Strangers.

—How cold was it at your house this morning?

—Only 10 degrees below zero at seven o'clock this morning.

—Very few country people were in the city doing business to-day.

—Jamesville Chapter No. 5, Royal Arch Masons, occupy Masonic hall this evening.

Parents.

—The Sack company will appear at the charity ball this evening in their new uniforms.

—Officer Ed. Smith, of the west side night force, took in two tramps out of the cold last night.

—Marshal Hogan is handing out the "Governors" with the remark, "Take a smoke—it's a lively boy, you bet."

—Our people generally prefer congregating around a good warm stove to day to skrimishing around out doors.

—The Sack company's grand charity ball at the Guard's armory this evening. Don't let the cold keep you away.

—Mr. Geo. Hackleman received today from his brother in Illinois, five choice wild turkeys, and six dozen quails, which he will serve to his customers on Christmas. He invites his friends to call around and partake of the feast.

—Mrs. Helen M. Gougar's lecture on Woman Suffrage at Layman's hall tomorrow evening. Remember it. The lecturer comes to Jamesville well recommended as a public speaker, and will no doubt entertain her hearers.

—The large Newfoundland dog belonging to Mr. Wm. Cunningham died on Wednesday morning, we presume on account of old age. He was the largest specimen of the canine race in Jamesville, and on account of his enormous size was a great pet of his master.

—Late yesterday afternoon the jury in the case of Mrs. E. T. Horne against the Rock county agricultural society, found for the plaintiff. The jury members were Messrs. John C. Fredendall, J. P. Baker, W. G. Brandt, S. F. Sanborn, C. T. Wright and D. T. Kenyon.

—Mr. Fred Somers will sell his household furniture at public auction, commencing at one o'clock p. m. on Monday, Dec. 29th, at his residence on Milton avenue. This will be an excellent opportunity to secure some real bargains in household goods. See notice elsewhere.

—Mr. M. L. Richardson, of the second ward, on Saturday sold his 34 crop of tobacco, consisting of the products of six acres to Messrs. Rowe & Stevens, for 15 cents per pound. Mr. Richardson delivered the tobacco on Saturday, and received the sum of $1,342. Pretty good sum of money from six acres in one season.

—Patriarch S. B. Kenyon, James A. Fathens, N. C. Baker, C. T. Winslow and James F. Hutchinson, will go to Albany, Green county, this evening, where they will meet Grand Patriarch Charles Kondall, of Beloit, and will assist in installing an encampment of Odd Fellows in that village. The party will return home to-morrow morning.

—Two drunks, George Willis, who is well known in this city, and Matthew Gardiner, of Shoppers, were brought into the municipal court this afternoon by Officer Smith, and the judge sent them to jail for ten days each on a bread and water diet. They were taken in late last night in a beastly state of intoxication and severely chilled through with the cold.

—The case of Mary M. Davis, et al, against George C. Dean, et al, is on trial in the circuit court. The question at issue is a charge of undue influence in making of the will of Mrs. Sparrow, of Bradford. Quite a number of witnesses are in attendance, and the case will probably occupy several days. Messrs. J. V. Sale and John M. Whitehead are for the plaintiff, and Messrs. O. H. Fethers and B. F. Danwidie for the defendants.

—Dr. S. H. Gish exhibited the little people at the Sunday school rooms of Court Street M. E. church last evening with a stereoscopic exhibition. The pictures thrown upon the canvas represented animals that occupied the earth before the creation of man, and with the history connected with them, furnished an interesting theme. The exhibition was not short before it was half completed, on account of the bursting of a gas tube much to the annoyance of the doctor and his audience.

—The grand opening of Odd Fellows hall at Milton Junction, will take place on Thursday evening, January 1st, 1885. Anderson's orchestra will furnish the music. Floor managers, Peter Trueman, Milton; Capt. A. F. Caldwell, Whitewater; W. A. Bentley, Edgerton; Fred Sanborn, Jamesville; B. D. Baldwin, Jamesville. Reception committee—Clark Son, Edgerton; I. O. Brownell, Jamesville; James A. Fathens, Jamesville; Geo. Warren, Milton; E. F. Donnelly, White water; W. A. Dodd, Milton Junction. Tickets, including supper, $3.00.

—People who witnessed the fire at the Corn Exchange square this afternoon, went away satisfied that the Globe self acting fire extinguisher is all that is claimed for it. A frame fourteen feet high, thoroughly saturated with kerosene oil, was ignited and resulted in a very hot fire. Three bottles of the extinguisher reduced the flame to smoke so quick that the mercury in the vicinity was not affected to any great extent. Mr. Burdick, the agent, will call on our manufacturing and business men during the next few days.

—About the happiest business firm in the city of Jamesville is that of Gately & King, ice dealers. Wall King, the junior member of the firm, is so elated at the fine prospects of an abundant ice crop that he is selling all kinds of stationary and Christmas cards at the P. O. news room, at astonishingly low figures, while the senior member was seen following up a load of wood in the fourth ward, with his sleeves rolled up and pants inside his boots, trying to make a newspaper man believe it was warm weather. Yes, they are contented, and will soon have their storehouse filled with A No. 1 ice for distribution among our people during the summer of 1885.

—The mercury last night went down so low that people lost interest in staring at the corner watching it. This did not interfere with a previously arranged programme at the home of Mr. Walter Holms, in the third ward, and this morning the happy father was canvassing the town for a pair of ear muffs for the eight-pound boy that will make the cold nights interesting for the family the balance of the winter. The little fellow will play on a brass horn when he arrives at years of discretion, and in the meantime he will be content to practice on the credibility of his father and mother, much to their delight and satisfaction.

—One of the attractive features of the charity ball to be given at the Guard's armory this evening, will be the exhibition drill by a squad detailed from the Guards. The drill will be given under the direction of Captain J. B. Doe, Jr., who is recognized as one of the most efficient drill-masters in the state. It will be remembered that the Guard's enjoy an enviable reputation as a thoroughly drilled company, and the detail selected to give the public exhibition this evening during the progress of the charity ball, will stand unchallenged in the manual and also in company drill. The exhibition will be well worth seeing, and we are assured that it will be richly enjoyed by every one. So those who do not dance can find abundant attractions to justify them in going to the armory to-night.

—The Gazette has it from the best authority in the world, that our venerable friend and honored townsman, Mr. Charles Sexton, is a candidate for the postoffice, providing that President Cleveland concludes to remove the present incumbent. If party fealty, constant faithfulness, unslaking zeal and unselfish labor for the party, both in season and out of season, deserve a reward in something more substantial than words of flattery, then our friend Mr. Sexton deserves to be recognized by Mr. Cleveland when he makes out his list of honorable democrats who must be rewarded for the good they have done the party. Mr. Sexton's faith in his party, his devotion to its principles, and his work for its advancement, have been as true as the daily rising of the sun, and should be recognized by the incoming administration.

MATRIMONIAL.

HOWLAND-GLASS.

The home of Mrs. Andrew J. Glass, 65 North Pearl street, first ward, was the scene of a large and happy gathering of relatives and intimate friends, last evening, the occasion being the marriage of her daughter Miss Cora M. Glass and Mr. E. J. Howland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Howland, of Milton avenue, second ward. The marriage ceremony was performed at eight o'clock, by Rev. M. G. Rodge, D. D., of the Baptist church. Congratulations were showered upon the newly married couple, who all sat down and partook of the splendidly prepared wedding feast. The bride received many very handsome and costly presents, among which was fifty dollars in money and a fine bed-room set, from Mrs. Mary King, of Dakota, grand mother of the bride, who was present at the pleasant and happy ceremony; a set of silver knives, forks and spoons, from the uncle of the bride, Mr. H. B. Glass, of this city. There were many other beautiful presents from intimate friends of bride and groom. The evening was spent in merry making, and at a seasonable hour the guests sought their respective homes, leaving their best wishes for a bright future to Mr. and Mrs. Howland, who will make their home in Jamesville. Mr. Howland being the junior member of the firm of J. Howland & Son, blacksmiths, corner of Bluff and East Milwaukee streets.

CANNON-WILCOX.

At 7:30 o'clock last evening Rev. C. B. Wilcox, of Court Street M. E. church, was called to the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Wilcox, of Harmony, and performed the ceremony which united their daughter Miss Eva E. Wilcox and Mr. Chas. E. Cannon, as husband and wife. The ceremony was performed in the presence of some fifty or more relatives and intimate friends, and the occasion was one of much happiness to all present. All partook of a bountiful wedding feast, and returned home leaving their best congratulations for Mr. and Mrs. Cannon. The bride was the recipient of many choice and beautiful presents.

Auction Sale.

Of household furniture Monday Dec. 19th, 1884, at 1 o'clock p. m., at the residence of Mr. Fred Somers, Milton avenue. The entire lot of household furniture—cook stove, parlor heater, two heating stoves, parlor furniture, sitting room furniture, carpets, bed room furniture, kitchen furniture, silver ware and table cutlery, and many other articles too numerous to mention.

F. SONNEDORN.

The Weather.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer registered 10 degrees below zero. Clear, with northwest wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 10 degrees below zero. Clear with northwest wind. For the corresponding hours one year ago the register was at zero and 8 degrees above.

The M. E. Church Market.

The thermometer on the market down towards 20 below zero failed to keep a fine company from gathering at the Christmas market, at Cannon's hall last evening, held by the ladies of the First M. E. church. It proved a successful and pleasant gathering. Many intent on getting the first choice of articles visited the hall during the afternoon so that in the early evening many of the articles were market sold. Six tables were tastefully arranged about the hall, which showed that many busy fingers had been at work during the past few months and the ladies were deserving of the fine patronage which they received. The table of paper work was very attractive, the work including roses, pinks, poppies, apple blossoms, etc., presenting a larger and more attractive table of this work than ever before shown here. The young ladies in charge of this department proved anything but "wall flowers" as the rapid sales showed. It was remarked nevertheless, that they might be pined off for paper dolls, but they did not think there was any one present willing to pay the price asked. The boys' table showed that they can if they will turn spare minutes to good account sometimes. The saved work by Edgar Goldthorpe was much admired and found a ready sale. Most of the articles were disposed of at the marked price; the few remaining were put up at auction and soon closed out. The supper from 6 until 9 o'clock was well patronized by the clerks and business men, and it showed that they "never into a better supper in all their life for a quarter."

RULES OF SCHOOL.

The Rules Governing the School Teachers and Pupils of Our City Schools.

The following are the rules adopted by the committee appointed by the board of education to revise the rules governing our city schools. These rules will be reported at a meeting of the board of education to be held on Saturday evening, and it is said they will be adopted with but slight if any amendments. They are published by the Gazette for the benefit of the patrons of the schools, and should be carefully read by those interested in our public schools:

PRINCIPAL.

1. The principal of the high school shall be the superintendent of all the city schools. He shall have authority to enforce discipline in all the public schools, to make regulations, and see that all rules and regulations are carried out, which the board of education may prescribe.

2. The principal must see that the teachers in every grade do not have nor enforce minor rules which are an injury to the schools.

3. He shall assist the teachers in the classification and promotion of pupils and cause the proper text books to be used, and the prescribed course of study to be followed.

4. He shall meet the teachers once in two weeks during each term, to instruct them in the theory and practice of teaching, by actual class work, and the best method of governing their respective schools; to receive the reports of other teachers of the daily attendance and punctuality of the pupils of the several schools.

5. He shall hold at least a one week's teachers' institute during the year.

6. At the close of each year he shall prepare a written report of what he has done, together with such information, suggestions and recommendations as he may deem important.

7. He shall make such reports to the board at their stated meetings as they may require.

NOTES FOR TEACHERS.

1. The teachers shall observe and carry into effect all regulations of the principal and board of education in relation to their respective schools; shall attend punctually the meetings of the teachers, and whenever absent from such meetings, shall report in writing to the principal, the cause of such absence, and the week thereafter, unless previously excused by the principal or board of education.

2. The board of education requires the services of teachers five days in each week, and punctual attendance to all teachers' meetings required by them.

3. All teachers shall be in their respective school rooms at least thirty minutes before the opening of school in the morning, and fifteen minutes in the afternoon.

4. The morning exercises of each department may commence with reading the scriptures without comment or the recitation of the Lord's prayer, or both, and with appropriate vocal or instrumental music.

5. Teachers shall require punctuality, and exercise a careful watchfulness over the conduct of their pupils in and around the school buildings, and endeavor by precept and example to encourage them to correct habits and principles and shall not address pupils in rough or improper language.

6. It shall be the duty of teachers to notify non-resident pupils of their inability to pay tuition fees, and they shall make a report in writing the names of all such pupils in their respective schools, to the clerk of the board.

7. Any teacher absent from school on account of sickness or other excusable cause, shall be given the principal's absence to be given to the principal.

8. At the close of each school year all teachers shall deliver up to the clerk all registers, class books, and keys in their possession.

9. All teachers will be held responsible for the order and discipline of their respective rooms; and for any damage that may be done to the building or any other school property, by pupils under their charge.

10. All teachers employed in the schools shall be examined once in each year, if they hold a third grade certificate, and once in two years, if they hold a second or first grade certificate, by a committee appointed by said board, and shall receive a certificate showing their standing in the several branches.

11. Every applicant for teacher's position, shall, (before being employed) pass an examination satisfactory to the school board.

12. No teacher shall send any scholar home on account of tardiness.

13. Teachers intending to resign their positions, must notify the school board at least four weeks before such resignation is to take place.

14. Any teacher violating any of the above rules shall be liable to suspension, or removal from office.

RULES FOR PUPILS.

1. No child shall be admitted as a pupil in any primary department who shall not attain the age of four years, nor in the intermediate or grammar schools unless regularly promoted, or found upon examination qualified to enter the lowest class therein.

2. All pupils are required to be in their respective school rooms before the time of beginning school; to be regular and punctual in their daily attendance; to conform to the rules and regulations of the school; to be diligent in study, respectful to teachers, kind to schoolmates and to refrain entirely from the use of coarse, profane or improper language upon the school grounds.

3. Scholars who accidentally or otherwise injure or destroy any school property, whether furniture, apparatus, buildings, fences, trees or other property belonging to the school district, shall be held liable to pay in full for such damage, and the pupil may be suspended until such damage is paid to the satisfaction of the school board.

4. Every pupil who is absent or tardy shall be required to bring a written excuse from their parents or guardian the next day they come to school, for such absence or tardiness.

5. For open disobedience, insubordination, or use of profane, obscene or indecent language, a pupil may be temporarily suspended by a teacher or expelled by the board until satisfactory assurance is given that the offense will not be repeated.

GENERAL RULES.

1. There shall be two daily sessions of all the public schools; the morning session to commence at 9 o'clock a. m., and the afternoon session to commence at 1 o'clock p. m. The sessions of the primary schools to be each of two hours duration. The morning session of all other schools to be of three hours' duration, and the afternoon session to continue two hours and forty-five minutes each.

2. There shall be two recesses in each school room daily, of not less than ten minutes, nor more than fifteen minutes each.

3. Non-resident pupils shall pay a tuition fee of five dollars and fifty cents per term in all the other schools; such tuition shall be due on the first week of admission, and if not paid at that time, the pupil will be liable to suspension.

MISCELLANEOUS.

1. There shall be a public examination of all the schools at the close of each term. Promotions from the primary to the intermediate, and from the intermediate to the grammar school, shall be made at the close of the summer term, and be determined by examination.

5. The principal may promote scholars for special merit, at any time, when found qualified.

6. The teachers' meeting, during the term, shall be regarded as a school session, and absence therefrom shall be regarded as a half-day's absence from school.

LOCAL MATTERS.

Two first-class homes in the suburbs each having ten acres of choice land, for sale at a bargain by C. E. Bowles.

The Raymond, mill and water-power, lot, with 550 inches of water, will be sold regardless of cost, by C. E. Bowles.

Holiday goods at Prentice & Evenson's. $2,000 to loan by C. E. Bowles.

Holiday goods at Prentice & Evenson's. Come early and avoid the rush, and get your bargains from a full stock, at the New York Fire Sale, South Main street, near the city scales.

$1,000 to loan by C. E. Bowles.

The clothing and furnishing goods are sold at the great Fire sale for less than half their value by the companies concerned at New York Fire store, South Main street, near the park.

Holiday goods at Prentice & Evenson's. $1100 will buy a choice home on South Main street. Apply to C. E. Bowles.

Edward's Balm of Life is sold by Palmer & Stevens. Trial bottle free.

Holiday goods at Prentice & Evenson's.

C. E. Bowles has cheap homes for sale.

Holiday goods at Prentice & Evenson's.

Holiday goods at Prentice & Evenson's.

Overcoats for men and for boys at your own figures are sold at the New York Fire sale, South Main street near the City scales.

Iron SALE—A span of mares, now harness and wagon. For particulars enquire at this office.

Holly wreaths and berries—new—at Heintz's.

For Sale—14 city lots in Mitchell's 5th addition to Jamesville. Terms cash. Title perfect. J. J. K. Frank.

Holiday goods at Prentice & Evenson's.

The place to buy your underclothing and gloves and mittens at Pitcher & Ziegler's.

Holiday goods at Prentice & Evenson's.

Holiday goods at Prentice & Evenson's.

A live clothing store, corner Main and Milwaukee street.

PITCHER & ZIEGLER.

Holiday goods at Prentice & Evenson's.

READ ESTATE.—All persons wishing to buy, sell, rent or exchange real estate of any kind, or obtain a loan on real estate security can serve his or her interest best by patronizing Blanchard & Hall.

Holiday goods at Prentice & Evenson's.

A fine line of childrens short pant suits and childrens overcoats at Pitcher & Ziegler's.

The finest line of neck wear and overcoat scarfs in the city at

FOOTE & WILCOX'S.

Holiday goods at Prentice & Evenson's.

Fall and winter hats and caps in great variety at J. L. Fords, West Milwaukee street.

Holiday goods at Prentice & Evenson's.

Holiday goods at Prentice & Evenson's.

The Turtle driving outfit for ladies and gentlemen, are just the thing for driving in cold weather, can be worn with any glove or mitten, sold at Pitcher & Ziegler's.

Holiday goods at Prentice & Evenson's.

Men's fall suits, boys' and children's suits, stylish, well-made and fine trimmed at the price of old goods, sold at the New York Fire Sale, South Main street next to temperance saloon.

Holiday goods at Prentice & Evenson's.